Henry Campbell, who was mutilated by B. E. Choate in Graves county, can evidently forgive if he cannot forget. He has signed a petition for the pardon of Choate, who is in the penitentiary for his attack on Campbell.

Wednesday was Louisville day at the Kentucky State Fair. The attendance, 27,560, was the largest of the week. Ruth Law, the aviatrix, made a spectacular flight, looping the loop thirteen times, thereby breaking her record for this daring act.

Every girl who goes through the 8th grade in the Evansville schools will be required to learn how to cook 5000 devoting 75 minutes a day to domestic science. If this is done, it would be an easy matter to promise every girl who completes the course to a husband as a chum.

M. Politis, Foreign Minister of Greece, is preparing a White Book to show the extent to which the late Constantine was swayed by German influence. M. Politis declares Greece has proof that the Germans were more cruel than the Turks. The Greek Foreign Minister expresses the opinion that the entry of the United States in the war finally insured victory for the Entente Allies.

HEIFER CLUB'S GOOD WORK

Boys Have Forty-two Short-horn Heifers to Be Sold In The Fall.

NICE PROFIT REALIZED
Planters Bank & Trust Co., Will Renew and Double Offer.

Last spring the Planters Bank & Trust Co., bought 42 Shorthorn heifers and sold them at cost to 42 boys of the "Heifer Club," taking their notes for them to be paid in 6 months. All of these heifers have lived and increased in value and weight and they will be sold at public auction this fall, the notes paid and the difference will be paid to the boys as profits. Some of the calves increased in weight as much as 400 pounds and the boys will clear from $25 to $50 dollars on them. All of them have been bred and will be sold as springers.

In addition to the legitimate profits, three of the boys will be awarded special prizes for the condition in which the calves are found to be. The first, second and third are $10, $7.50 and $5 respectively.

The officials of the bank are so well pleased with the experiment to promote the breeding of Shorthorns in the county, that they will renew the offer next year for 80 heifers to be placed on the same conditions. The date of the sale will be announced soon.

EXPRESS CO. IS SUED

Allegation That Colt Was Damaged in Shipment From Saratoga, N. Y.

John H. White sues the American Express Co. for $200. He says in his petition that on Aug. 20 last, he delivered to the defendant at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., a thoroughbred filly colt to be brought here. He further alleges that the colt should have reached Hopkinsville Aug. 23, but did not arrive until the night of Aug. 26, and that the animal was kept on the road such an unreasonable length of time that it became sick and reached here in a badly damaged condition.

GIRL CAN'T WAIT

One Pupil Has Already Arrived For Bethel.

Miss Jane Dunnavan, of Clay, arrived unexpectedly Wednesday to enter Bethel College, not being advised that the date of opening had been changed to next week. She found the College filled with workmen and a canning club of ladies rushing things for the opening next week. The rooms are now being put in order with floors varnished, walls in many rooms papered and new druggets on the floors. The furniture has been made like new and from 25 to 30 girls are confidently expected to be on hand Wednesday.

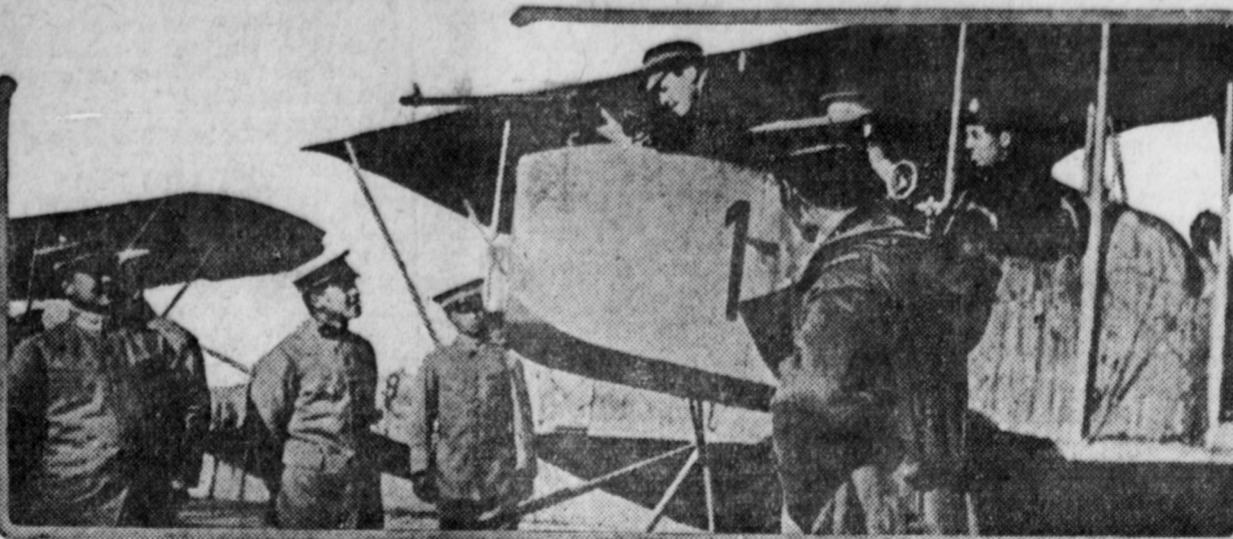

Uncle Sam's Boys.

The first-class private of the armies of the United States, serving in France, will draw more pay than a second lieutenant in any of the armies of the European nations.

Great Britain pays its second lieutenants $466 a year, France $452, Germany $367, Russia $274; Austria Hungary $366 and Italy $380.

And the great republic sending its democratic armies overseas, will pay to the first class private $475 a year.

GERMAN BLOCKS LINER SUNK; BURNED BY MOB

Argentinians Set Torch To Teutonic Club and Pro-Kaiser Newspaper.

PASSPORTS FOR LUXBURG

Minister Told to Go at Once --Berlin Expected to Place Onus on Him.

Buenos Ayers, Sept. 14.—The downtown section of the city was the scene of the wildest disorders Wednesday night in connection with the great anti-German demonstrations in which thousands of Argentinians took part. Many of those in the mobs carried firebrands and as a result scores of buildings were set on fire and several blocks of German business houses were destroyed.

The Minnehaha was commanded by Captain Frank Claret who is a commander in the naval reserve. She was one of a group of six steamships escorted by destroyers through the danger zone.

The Minnehaha was struck in the engine room on the starboard side, the report said, the explosion killing several of the engine room force and men in the stokehole as well as seamen on deck. She had a crew of 140 men all told. Of the fifty who were lost some were said to have been drowned in getting away in the boats.

The German legation and German newspaper buildings were stoned. There was serious rioting and mounted police charged the mobs in the fashionable Avenida Florida.

The Argentine government sent to the legation passports to be delivered to Count Karl von Luxburg, the German Minister in Buenos Aires, involved in the scandal over transmission of war information to Berlin through the Swedish legation.

Old Citizen Dead.

Mr. Benjamin P. Mitchell, a prominent old citizen of the Cerulean Springs district, died Tuesday afternoon at his home after a lingering illness of several months from tuberculosis. He was seventy years of age, and is survived by two daughters—Mrs. James Valentine and Mrs. Elijah Ladd.—Cadic Record.

DYNAMITED CROFTON LAKE

Large Number of Fish Killed By Explosion Thursday Night.

The big lake near Crofton was dynamited Thursday night and a large number of fish were killed. Three men in a Ford car were seen to drive to the lake and stop. Shortly afterward they were seen to leave, coming in the direction of this city. The authorities here were notified of the dynamiting and every effort will be made to find out who committed the offense and bring them to justice.

TRIUMPH OF POOLED BRAINS

"Minnehaha" Carried Munitions on Twenty-Six Trips --Race Horse Lost.

New York, Sept. 14.—News was received here from England that the Atlantic transport liner Minnehaha, which had made 26 voyages between New York and London carrying 16,000 tons of munitions and supplies on each trip, was sunk by a submarine last Friday, a short distance off the coast of Ireland and that fifty of her officers and crew were lost. The Minnehaha left here five weeks ago, delivered her cargo safely in London, and was on her way to this port with a small quantity of general cargo and a race horse valued at $30,000 when she was destroyed.

The Minnehaha was commanded by Captain Frank Claret who is a commander in the naval reserve. She was one of a group of six steamships escorted by destroyers through the danger zone.

The Minnehaha was struck in the engine room on the starboard side, the report said, the explosion killing several of the engine room force and men in the stokehole as well as seamen on deck. She had a crew of 140 men all told. Of the fifty who were lost some were said to have been drowned in getting away in the boats.

The German legation and German newspaper buildings were stoned. There was serious rioting and mounted police charged the mobs in the fashionable Avenida Florida.

The Argentine government sent to the legation passports to be delivered to Count Karl von Luxburg, the German Minister in Buenos Aires, involved in the scandal over transmission of war information to Berlin through the Swedish legation.

The Record says:

Our Trigg county soldier boys are "making good." Peter Keatts has been made clerk of his company with a prospect of being selected to train the new recruits now being enrolled. Mark Cunningham, Aubrey Woodruff, Porter Piercy are in the line of promotion, while Stanley White and Marvin Wyatt are officers with bright prospects. We expect good reports from our doctors.

Mack Hopson, the garage man of this city, reached home last Thursday afternoon from Chicago, where he took the examination for the aviation corps of the United States Army. He was one of four out of fifteen examined at the time who passed the required examination, and was sworn in and is now awaiting orders to report for training. He will be called within the next few weeks, and will go into training for three months. He will rank as First Lieutenant if he makes good in the training and enters the service.

Arlice Gray, who has been stationed at Jeffersonville, Ind., since joining the army about two months ago, reached the county last Saturday on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Gray, near Kyle. He left Monday for Jeffersonville.

Cadiz will have a Stock Show and School Rally Oct. 12.

ALL OFF WITH KORNILOFF

Minister of Labor Says Headquarters of Rebel War Chief Has Given Up.

COUP WAS A BIG FAILURE

Korniloff's Offer to Surrender Was Refused, Must Suffer Severe Penalty.

General Korniloff's rebellion against Premier Kerensky apparently has been quelled, like other attempts that have been made to overthrow the provisional government in Russia. Official reports from Petrograd say that Korniloff's headquarters has surrendered and that Korniloff himself desires conditionally to place himself in the hands of the authorities. The government, however, demands his abject capitulation.

Meanwhile troops that had answered the call of revolt issued by Korniloff, continue to desert his ranks and return to the government fold, declaring that they were misled by Korniloff's professed aims.

Kerensky has been confirmed by the cabinet as commander-in-chief of the army and will have with him as chief of staff in his prosecution of the war against the Teutonic allies, General Alexieff, former commander-in-chief and one of the most brilliant officers in the Russian army. Added strength is also expected to be given Kerensky's rule by the appointment of new military officials for the district and city of Petrograd.

U.S. TO CONTROL PACKING PLANTS

Offer to Put Business Under Licensing System is Approved by Hoover.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Government regulation of the packing industry will be the next move of the food administration. A voluntary offer of representatives of the packers to put their plants under a licensing system made to Herbert Hoover, the food administrator, at a conference here today, was acted upon and a plan of control will be drawn up shortly.

The packers, numbering about a score, came to Washington to talk with Mr. Hoover about the threatened meat shortage and the subject of rising prices. They are of one opinion that prices can be brought down little unless a determined effort is made to increase the production of live stock.

The great export demand, they believe, will maintain prices at high level until long after the war has ended.

A licensing system for packing houses was provided in the food control bill. Putting it into operation will go far toward eliminating hoarding and speculation and stabilizing prices, is believed by food administration officials. The packers will confer soon with cattle growers to discuss the food administration's plan for removing herds from the west to better feeding districts in the east and south.

Increased production of live stock is a military necessity, Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, declared in a statement after the packers' meeting ended. "The keeping of more live stock was highly desirable before the war," said Mr. Vrooman. "Now it is a national necessity, first because of the terrible dearth of meat animals, not only in this country, but throughout the world; second, because no further waste of feeds must be permitted, and the only thing that can prevent waste on the farm is the production of more live stock."

"The fact that keeping more live stock is a military necessity does not mean that it is any the less a good business. The farmer should not lose this golden opportunity to cash in his waste forage at war prices."

SUIT AGAINST COAL COMPANY

Empire Coal Mining Company Made Defendant in Action for $1,000.

Eugene Holmes has filed suit against the Empire Coal Mining Co., for $1,000 damages. Holmes alleges that while in the employ of the Company about a year ago, by the reason of the carelessness and negligence of its agents and employees, he was severely injured about the head and lost the use of two fingers, thus reducing his capacity to earn money.

The Administration Trading with the Enemy Bill, which passed the House without a dissenting vote last July, passed the Senate with many amendments, including one giving the President power to embargo imports, and prohibiting publication of war comment in the German language unless accompanied in a parallel column by a translation in English.

A marked decrease in the destruction of British merchant vessels by mines or submarines is indicated in the weekly admiralty statement issued this week. Twelve vessels of more than 1600 tons and six of less than 1600 tons were sent to the bottom, as compared with twenty in the large and three in the small category sunk the previous week. The statement shows that four fishing vessels also were lost. This is the smallest results for any week since February.

Drafting of all aliens in the United States except Germans, others exempt by treaty, and those of countries allied with Germany, who have resided in this country one year, is proposed in a joint resolution passed by the senate and sent to the house. It is estimated that more than 1,000,000 aliens will be affected. Under the resolution by Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, chairman of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, subjects of the allies or neutrals claiming treaty exemption would be allowed to leave the country within ninety days.

The entire American sugar industry will be placed under government control October 1, the food administration announced Thursday night, by the installation of a licensing system to include manufactures, refining and imports. The step was decided on with the approval of President Wilson to prevent speculative prices and to secure stability. Institution of the licensing system will prevent hoarding and will insure a stabilized price, according to food administration officials. Within a short time the food administration will announce a price at which wholesale sugar should be delivered to all the consuming centers.

CUPID'S NEW WEAPON

By LOIS CRAYTON.

TERRIBLY SWOLLEN

Suffering Described As Torture
Relieved by Black-Draught.

All day he had watched her on the trail as the horses wound around high, rocky cliffs, across tracts of shale and through deep valleys. Hedgeman, the leader, who knew the country well, went ahead; then came the venturesome spirits, ready to take risks of slides and places on narrow ledges, where pieces of rock might have fallen away since the last ranger passed on his lonely patrol.

But the mountain ponies were sure-footed—too sure-footed, for they went close to the edge sometimes. The horse the girl rode insisted on walking as far away from the cliff as possible. The man kept his eye on the girl. Most of the time her left foot was dangling over space, but she gave no sign that she was afraid.

When night came they camped in a valley, and after supper most of the weary souls crawled into bed. A few still lingered, however, around the great fire. The man and the girl sat apart talking.

"You are not afraid of anything, are you?" he said.

She laughed. "Goodness, yes—spiders and mice, measles and burglars."

"I doubt it!"

"What did I do to make you think I was—brave?"

"Most girls would have screamed or fainted when that horse went so close to the edge."

"And I kept quiet. That was only the instinct of self-preservation. I didn't want to scare him."

"That isn't true, I'm afraid. I insist on giving you the palm of courage."

"And I insist that I am as much of a coward as anybody."

"What are you afraid of, then?"

"I told you—burglars for one thing."

"And?"

"You for another."

"Me?"

"Yes. You insist on dragging my feelings out into daylight and analyzing them. I suppose you'll soon discover that I'm fond of vegetable soup and hate to use semicolons, and that incidentally these riding boots have rubbed my stockings into tatters."

"I'd forgotten. You must be dead tired." He got up instantly and helped her to her feet. "Go to bed now and be fresh for new worlds tomorrow."

He pressed her hand warmly and was gone.

They were together a great deal after that; they rode side by side when possible, sat together at meals, and had splendid campfire talks. He insisted on calling her brave as each day brought new risks which she took without flinching.

The trip came to an end; the man took train for Seattle, the girl went east, and the party scattered in all directions.

The girl's family had not come home from Canada and she undertook the opening of the townhouse.

She had long, quiet evenings alone after busy days, and she lived over her wonderful time in the mountains. There were camera views to go over, some of the man. "He's so different from most men," she mused, "so big. He's been all over the world, he says. I suppose he builds bridges and tunnels, mountains and constructs dams and aqueducts, for he would never be content to spend his time doing little things."

One evening, after looking through her travel book again, she decided to go to bed. Hulda, the cook, had gone to her room on the third floor, and she was alone. She made a round of the rooms, fastened windows, snapping on locks and turning out lights.

Then she returned to the library to read from the table light before going upstairs.

And there stood a man with a black mask over his face and an automatic ready for action.

"Oh!" said the girl, standing quite still.

"Keep quiet," said the intruder, "and I won't hurt you."

And the girl kept very quiet; in truth, she slipped in a heap to the floor, for she had fainted.

"I'm a fool!" A man's voice was the first thing she heard when her senses came back. She was on a couch and Hulda was rubbing her face and hands. She thought she knew the voice.

The girl sat up. "You!" she cried. "Yes, I!" said the man grimly, the man with whom she had traveled over 300 miles of mountains.

"And here I've been thinking you did big, wonderful things to help the world, and you're a—a—"

"A burglar? No, I'm not really. Listen. I just got back from the West today—the evening—and I couldn't go to sleep until I had located your house. It was too late to come in, but I just wanted to know where you lived. When I was passing I saw a man working at the side window, so I got the corner policeman and we nabbed him. Then I thought of something, just a fool notion of mine to test your courage further, for I didn't believe you when you said you were afraid of burglars. You know what it was. I played burglar. Forgive me!"

"And I played baby," she said, ashamed.

"You are adorable, and I love you," said the man.

"Then it's all right," sighed the girl happily, "but it's the first time I ever knew Cupid to use a gun."

THE GENTLE CYNIC

The sure things demonstrate the uncertainties of life.

The man who preaches that nothing is impossible would even eat an onion and try to lie out of it.

About the only time you can really size up a man is when he thinks no one is watching him.

Don't jump at conclusions. Many a man has sustained a compound fracture of the reputation that way.

WORLDLY WISDOM

Life is worth living better than most men live it.

It is good to be wise, but it is wise to be good.

Origin of Moon in Doubt.

Many theories of the origin of the moon have been advanced, but all seem to present some difficulties. Our satellite furnishes us many unsolved problems. A belief in the meteoric origin of the moon is now quite general. According to this belief the earth was surrounded in the early stages of its existence by a ring of meteoric matter. The material forming the ring gradually gathered into one mass, our present moon, whose pitted face gives evidence of the bombardment it received from meteoric masses within the ring. According to this theory our satellite has always been a dead world, a cold and lifeless mass of meteoric rock. It has never felt the pulse of life or undergone the mighty changes that have passed over its ruling planet. It has remained a cold and silent witness to vast evolutionary processes going on upon a neighboring world such as it could never experience for itself.

COMMAND "WENT" FOR BOTH

Indiana Woman's Sharp Order Scared Junkman as Well as Dog That Was Digging Up Garden.

There is a woman in Irvington who is certainly in bad with a junk man, all on account of a dog. It was not her dog, nor yet the junk man's, which makes the case sadder than ever. The dog belongs to a neighbor, and must be the reincarnation of Captain Kidd or some other pirate, for his whole existence seems to be spent in seeking for buried treasure. As pirate treasure was always buried in the most unlikely places, that is where he digs. Nobody but a pirate or a dog would look for treasure very far below the surface of an onion bed, for instance, but the digging that dog did made the Irvington woman's onion bed look like a model of the Hindenburg line just after it was broken. The dog was "sedulously engaged in his terrestrial explorations," as they would say it in Irvington, when the woman saw him from the window. Rushing to the door, she shrieked, "Get out of here!" at the top of what is naturally a soft and cooing voice. Instead of one scramble there were two, and a junk man, until then unnoticed, passed through the open back gate just half a jump ahead of the dog, both going strong. It was more than a minute before the voice of the junk man was heard in the siren song, "Ra-a-agos-l-?-diron," and even at the distance it betrayed a decided tremolo. — Indianapolis News.

STUNG.

Stella—Was Jack wounded at the front, then?
Maud—No; he came home on leave, and sat on a wasp's nest.

WILLING TO RISK IT.

Surgeon—Do you carry accident insurance?

Victim—No, but go ahead and operate; I'll take a chance.

CYNICAL.

"What a good, sensible girl Miss Nellie is."

"Yes; that is the reason the men keep away from her."

POOR HAND.

Cholly—Your daughter is my queen and I her king.

Hed Dad—Take her. A pair of jacks is more serviceable.

THE REASON.

"I saw a man just now fairly choking with anger."

"Perhaps he had to swallow his words."

ECONOMIZING.

"Are you doing anything to save the food supply?"

"Well, we've given up keeping goldfish."

ANSWERED UNDER PRESSURE.

Alice—What did you say when he asked you if you loved him?

Edith—I refused to answer at first, but he squeezed it out of me.

CLEVER DOG.

"My dog can scent a storm hours off."

"Then his nose must be something of a storm sealer."

And another matter worthy of serious thought is this: Supposing the mail order houses could sell goods cheaper and everybody would order his goods from them.

The local stores would soon exist only in memory. You would then be at the mercy of the mail order houses entirely and be obliged to send away for everything.

Buy Big Things at Home. Remember a store cannot be kept up with small purchases if the local money is sent away for the big things.

This method will result only in ruining your home trade and in helping to build up an enormous corporation in some faraway city.

The failure to patronize home merchants decreases the value of farms, and town property becomes less valuable, as you well know that if a town goes back both local and surrounding values decrease.

Send your money away; you get nothing but the goods. Spend your money at home; it will come back to you in better towns, better stores and better social advantages.

Help Build Up Your Own Town. Is it not more to your interest to help build up your own little city or town than to contribute to the up-building of some faraway large city?

Is it not a fact that if your own town had 10,000 population instead of 1,000, it would be much better for all residents?

Would there not be much more employment?

Would not the consumption of products be greatly increased and consequently a farm within a radius of ten miles be worth from $10 to $50 an acre more?

This being the case, is it only a good thing for the merchant or tradesman if you buy from him?

True Citizenship. To Adam paradise was home. To the enterprising among his descendants home is paradise.

True citizenship is not all in rallying round the flag of our country and singing "Hail, Columbia."

The true spirit of patriotism is shown by the man who patronizes home industry first, last and all the time.

Many Women in this Condition Regain Health by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Convincing Proof of This Fact.

Ridgway, Penn.—"I suffered from female trouble with backache and pain in my side for over seven months so I could not do any of my work. I was treated by three different doctors and was getting discouraged when my sister-in-law told me how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her. I decided to try it, and it restored my health, so I now do all of my housework which is not light as I have a little boy three years old." —Mrs. O. M. RHINES, Ridgway, Penn.

Mrs. Lindsey Now Keeps House For Seven.

Tennille, Ga.—"I want to tell you how much I have been benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. About eight years ago I got in such a low state of health I was unable to keep house for three in the family. I had dull, tired, dizzy feelings, cold feet and hands nearly all the time and could scarcely sleep at all. The doctor said I had a severe case of ulceration and without an operation I would always be an invalid, but I told him I wanted to wait awhile. Our druggist advised my husband to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has entirely cured me. Now I keep house for seven and work in the garden some, too. I am so thankful I got this medicine. I feel as though it saved my life and have recommended it to others and they have been benefited."—Mrs. W. E. LINDSEY, R. R. 3, Tennille, Ga.

BRAVE SINGER.

Schumann-Heink Saves Boy's Life By Sucking Snake Bite Poison.

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 14.—Braving death, Mme. Schumann-Heink herself sucked poison of a rattle snake from the arm of little Carlo Gunzales at Wenden Monday night.

The boy was brought to Phoenix for medical attention. The diva came to Wenden to bid her son, Fred Schuman, good bye, as he left for war, and sang at the Red Cross benefit concert Sunday night. The day after her son left for the training camp, his wife was bitten by a scorpion. Little Carlo, a lad employed on the Schumann ranch, six miles north of Wenden, went out to kill a rattler, it being his plan to use snake venom as an antidote to the scorpion bite from which Mrs. Fred Schuman was suffering. The rattler struck child in the wrist just as he stooped to pick up the supposedly dead snake. He was taken to the ranch house, where the great singer herself sucked the poison from the wound.

Cold Snap Ends.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The present cold snap, extending from the Mississippi River eastward to the Atlantic coast and South as far as Virginia, is expected to moderate by Wednesday, when, the Weather Bureau predicts, a general rise in temperature will be felt.

There were general frosts this morning from the Upper Mississippi Valley eastward to the New England states and as far south as the district of Columbia and Northern Virginia.

Massachusetts Corn Nipped.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 14.—Eighty per cent. of the bumper corn crop of New England was destroyed by the two nights of frost of this week and squash, beans and tomatoes suffered in a proportionate degree, according to an estimate tonight by Wilfrid Wheeler, secretary of the state board of agriculture.

Manufacturing establishments numbered 4184 in 1914, a decrease of 600 over 1903.

Jew Soldiers.

New York, Sept. 24.—What is said to be the largest military force of Jews ever assembled at one camp in this country, will be at Camp Upton, Yaphank, Long Island, on the Day of Atonement, which falls on Sept. 26, and arrangements have been made by Major General J. Franklin Bell to grant furloughs to the members of the faith who desire to observe the day.

It is estimated that 5,000 Jews will be in camp by that time. Field services will be held at the camp next Monday and Tuesday in celebration of the New Year.

Hot Shot For Chattell.

Prof. John R. Chattell wrote Congressman Bathrick, of Ohio, asking him to support a proposal that no drafted man be sent abroad without his consent. Mr. Bathrick in a hot reply said:

"I am writing the president of Columbia University a request that you may have a free hand to join Emma Goldman and the rest of the I. W. W. You will then not be so dangerous to your country as you are while using the letterheads of the great and honored Columbia University to propagate sedition and other kinds of trouble for your country during the present war."

The October Woman's Home Companion.

Articles and fiction which stimulate and entertain are part of the October Woman's Home Companion. "American Children," by Agnes Repplier; "The Women Go To War," by Ida M. Tarbell; "Uncle Sam's Camp Meeting" and "Cutting the Coal Bill" are only a few of the useful articles.

The fiction includes the first installment of a new serial entitled "Flaming Knight," by Grace S. Richmond; and stories by Peter Clark Macfarlane, Sophie Kerr, Walter A. Dyer, and Laura Miller. The regular departments for younger readers, the cooking, picture and fashion sections are all up to the usual standard, making a well rounded number.

COULD STAMP OUT LEPROSY

Investigator of Opinion That Disease Might Be Eliminated From Japan at Small Cost.

Japan has done much to fight the ravages of leprosy, but plans to do much more in the way of furnishing hospitals for lepers. Leprosy for a long time has been considered hereditary by the Japanese, leading often to the rupture of marriage engagements, to divorces, and also to the complete disappearance from society of the afflicted man or woman. Doctor Koda, who is conducting an investigation declares that of 942 patients examined by him, only 255, or 27 per cent, have fellow sufferers in their own family. He believes that the disease is not hereditary in the sense that insanity is hereditary. It cannot, he says, skip a generation and appear in the grandchildren. He considers the shunning and isolation of leprous families unnecessary. Only the individual patients must be segregated, he believes. In Japan there are 23,800 lepers registered, but the families involved aggregate 990,000 persons. About 1,000 persons are now segregated. Doctor Koda declares it would cost only the price of a new battleship to inaugurate a thorough isolation policy, and thinks that in this way the disease could be stamped out, at least as a family curse, within twenty years.

HAVE NO RIGHT TO NAME

Poland-China Hogs Allowed to Retain Cognomen Because They Had Been Long So Called.

The Poland-China hog originated in Butler and Warren counties, O. In 1816 the Society of Shakers in Warren county, brought some breeding hogs from Philadelphia. Some of them were pure white and others white, with black spots. They were represented to the Shakers as of pure Chinese blood and were called Big Chinas. The descendants of these hogs were widely distributed in Warren and Butler counties and were known by different names, among others as Poland-Chinas, because it was said they had been crossed with a Poland breed. They were also called Magees. In 1872 a committee which had been appointed to investigate the origin of the breed reported its findings to the National Swine Breeders' congress. This committee reported against the theory that the Chinas had been crossed with Polands, but as the name Poland-China had been adopted and was in general use, the committee advised that it be retained, and it was. The name Magee never represented a rival breed of hogs, but was one of the names by which the Poland-Chinas were sometimes called. The Ohio Poland-China Record was organized in 1877, the Central Poland-China association in 1880, and in 1906 these two associations amalgamated as the National Poland-China Record Company.

Anthony J. Frasca is as black as the ace of spades and as nervous as a girl with her first beau. He came from Belle Isle, Md., to be examined at the Sixteenth district. He passed and then he asked Doctor Meinhart for "one of them papers."

"Oh," said the doctor, "why should a fellow like you ask to get out of the army?"

"Who the blazes wants to get out of army!" shot back the fiery Frasca. "Ah wants to get one of them papers that jest makes mah ole man support mah wife and kid while ah go fight."

The doctor tried to keep a straight face, but told him he didn't have any of "those papers" on hand.—Philadelphia Ledger.

ABANDON FOOD PREJUDICES

Don't Be Finicky

Be willing to try new foods. Certain plentiful and nourishing foods widely used and enjoyed in one section are practically unknown in other sections of the country. Learn to know ALL the good things; not a few only.

People too easily get into food ruts—insist on eating only the food they are used to and refuse to give a fair trial to others. This causes undue demand for certain staples, with resulting scarcity or high prices when crops are short. At the same time other valuable foods may be relatively cheap and available. A striking instance of this is failure fully to appreciate rice—a valuable source of starch—when potatoes are scarce and high. Another example is refusal in certain sections to use anything but wheat as a breadstuff when corn—a valuable cereal widely used elsewhere as a breadstuff—is plentiful and relatively cheap.

Cook Food Properly

Learn how to cook all kinds of staple foods and to serve them in a variety of ways. Simple dishes well prepared are better than expensive foods badly cooked.

Many persons are prejudiced against certain good foods because, when first tried, the foods were improperly cooked or prepared.

Remove from your vocabulary "don't like" or "can't eat."

Most individual prejudices against widely popular foods either imaginary or baseless.

Try to like every simple food; give it a fair trial.

Death From Superstition.

A superstitious Buddhist caused a man's death in Mura, Japan. A dealer in clogs went mad, owing to money troubles. His wife and his sister consulted a Buddhist. The ignorant devotee, believing that the man was possessed by a fox, advised them to take him to Nose temple. In accordance with the request of the man's relatives the devotee took the lunatic to Nose temple, where he threw him in a pool beneath a waterfall known as Shintaki, holding him fast there with ropes. He repeated the process for a few days. Needless to say the lunatic's health suffered considerably by this extraordinary treatment. A few days later, at about 4 a.m., the zealot threw the lunatic in the basin of the waterfall as usual and left him there for a few hours. Before he returned the man died from exhaustion and cold. Amazed at this result the ignorant bigot buried the body in a temple known as Takusonji in the same village, and made out that the lunatic had died from sudden illness. The police, however, heard of the affair and arrested the man.

Flood-Lighting System Aids Airmen.

The practice field for use by the aviation section of the signal corps at Hempstead, N. Y., has been provided with 12 powerful flood-light projectors which mark the area of those members of the section that are taking a course in night flying. The most conspicuous piece of equipment for this lighting system is a searchlight of 1,500,000 candle power, which has an effective range of 8,000 yards. This powerful light is employed in "picking up" airmen as they fly over the field looking for a landing place. It also serves as a lighthouse for the mariners of the sky. The great beacon was used for the first time last January.

Halcyon Days.

"Halcyon days" was the name given by the Greeks to the seven days which precede and follow the shortest day of the year. The reference is to an old fable which states that during this time of year, when the halcyon, or kingfisher, was breeding, there was calm at sea. From this tradition the phrase "halcyon days" has come to signify a period of peace and tranquillity.

What Warships Cost.

A modern giant battle cruiser will cost approximately $20,000,000; a superdreadnaught can be built for $15,000,000; a scout cruiser for $6,000,000; a destroyer for $1,300,000; while ordinary submarines cost $600,000 each for the smaller type, and from $1,000,000 to $1,200,000 each for the larger boats.

FOR BETTER ROADS

SMALL PAVING BLOCKS USED

They Are Proving Popular in Rural Regions in Europe—First Laid in New York State.

For a number of years country roads in parts of Germany, Austria and other European countries have been paved with small cubes of stone but it is not generally known that small-block pavements have been laid in the United States. They are believed to have been introduced first by J. Y. McClintock, county superintendent of Monroe county, N. Y. After an experience of ten years or so, he recommends the use of blocks of vitrified clay, measuring 2½ inches on each side. These are laid on a base of gravel, macadam, concrete or broken slag, which is usually made wider than the pavement in order to support the gravel or broken stone laid beside the cubes to form hard shoulders to carry vehicles that are forced to turn out of the main roadway. During the last year about six miles of such pavement were put down in the county.

Mr. McClintock holds that this type of construction is desirable where a substantial base is already in place, as in the case of an old gravel or macadam road which is not worn out, or a base can be constructed at low cost. The vitrified blocks are often laid by unskilled labor, properly supervised, with entirely satisfactory results.

Another type of small-block pavement was recently laid on the Morris-town turnpike in New Jersey, which carries a heavy traffic. There is a section of this road about 1,200 feet long having a 7 per cent grade, where it was decided to try small granite blocks in the hope that their numerous joints would reduce the tendency to slip and skid on this rather steep slope. The blocks are 3 to 4-inch cubes and were laid on a thin foundation. They were not laid in rows but in curved lines, forming a mosaic pattern, and the joints were filled with fine stone and a grout of cement and sand.

PIONEER GOOD ROAD BUILDER

Over $120,000,000 Expended or Pledged During Last Two Decades in New York State.

Twenty years ago New York embarked upon its policy of state aid for the construction, maintenance and repair of state, county and township highways. Since that time approximately 20,000 of the total mileage, estimated to exceed 80,000, have been improved.

As a pioneer in the good roads movement, the Empire state has always occupied first rank. Over $120,000,000 has been expended or pledged during the last two decades for highway construction.

Prison Camps No Longer in Experimental Stage in Oklahoma—Accepted Institution.

In Oklahoma prison road camps are no longer in the experimental stage, says the National Committee on Prisons and Prison Labor. They have become an accepted institution in the state. In the central and southwest sections prisoners are building the Ozark jail; in the southeast, they are grading the Jefferson highway, and in other districts they are assisting in the local good road movement.

Illinois in Earnest.

Drainage and a good foundation are the first considerations in improving a road with a hard surface. The best possible foundation is a good earth road with a low crown.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

RICH MISS HEN.

"Cock-a-doodle-do," shouted Mr. Rooster.

"Cluck, cluck, cluck," said Miss Hen. "Cock-a-doodle-do," crowed Grandfather Red Top Rooster.

Such a noise as there was in the Barnyard and all because a great many automobiles had gone by. Mr. Rooster was the first to complain.

"Once," he said, "my great-grandfather objected to these automobiles because he said that their honk-honk was noticed far more than his fine crowing."

"To be sure it would be, too," said Miss Hen, who was rather nervous. "Poor great-grandfather might have been run over and killed by one and there is always that awful chance that an automobile might."

"You are so nervous," said Mr. Rooster. "But the reason my great-grandfather minded it so much was because he said he felt it was taking attention away from him which he thought he deserved."

"I see," said Miss Hen. "Still I can't help noticing an automobile myself. It's so noisy and it's more unusual than crowing."

"I am not so sure about that," said Grandfather Red Top Rooster. "I really believe that a rooster is more of a treat these days than an automobile. Think of the numbers that go by one after the other, day after day. And each year there are more."

"You know," said Miss Hen, who was really very vain and tried to put on many airs, "I thought of getting one myself."

"You were going to get an automobile?" asked Mr. Rooster, who was the first one able to speak. "And pray tell, how could you have done such a thing? Who would have run it for you?

"I Would Have Gone About the Countryside."

Where would you have gone? How could you have paid for it? They say they cost a great deal of real money."

"Ah," said Miss Hen, "you all think I am very foolish, but I am not. No, indeed, I am not foolish at all. I am very sensible. I know what I am talking about. I could have had an automobile if I wanted. I know how to do things. I have an excellent business head for a hen."

The other creatures looked at Miss Hen in surprise. She had always been so fond of putting on airs, they thought this was one too. Yet they couldn't understand how Miss Hen could say such things if she didn't mean some of them.

"You have asked me a great many questions," said Miss Hen. "I cannot answer them all at the same time. But I will answer each one separately." And she cleared her throat.

"First of all," she said, "comes the question, how I could have done such a thing. I would have bought the automobile with money I can earn and earn easily too. There! The first answer!" Miss Hen chuckled delightedly.

Every creature in the barnyard was looking at her. It made her feel very important.

"The second question, who would have run it for me. Well, ladies run their own automobiles. Hens could run their own. I would have had one made my size—they make them all sizes you know—and it would have just fitted me.

"The third question asking me where I would have gone can easily be answered by saying that I would have gone about the countryside, selling eggs to different farmers, wherever I could have made the most money. That is the main thing with automobile owners. It costs so much to keep them going. They say when they stop to mend a tire here that I would need to make as much money as I could.

"And there is my answer to your fourth question. I would have made the money to pay for it by selling eggs. They go up in price all the time. I could have had an automobile. I am no longer a poor hen to be despised and to be tooted, tooted at by other folks' horns. No, I am a hen, a great and useful hen. A money-making hen. An egg-selling hen."

The other creatures stared at her in wonder and admiration.

"But why didn't you buy one?" asked Grandfather Red Top Rooster, after a long pause.

"Because," said Miss Hen, "they are too common. I didn't want to spend my summer doing nothing but stirring up dust!"

EASY QUESTION TO DECIDE

No One Need Long Hesitate to Decide Between What Is Right and What Is Wrong.

There is one great trouble among men, and that is because they have not clear conceptions of what is right and what is wrong. They go through life with their thoughts all confused upon this subject, and very often take the wrong side almost as a natural result. But everybody should have a clear idea of what is right and wrong, for if they do and make use of the knowledge their lives will be happier and society exalted. A few questions will make plain the rightness or wrongness of a matter in question: On which side of this issue is reverence, honesty, purity, unselfishness, candor? If these do not figure on a side of an issue, you may be sure it is the wrong side. If there is an omission of any one of these qualities it is the wrong side.

Judgment in these matters of everyday life, upon which a person wants to be right, can easily be reached by interposing these questions. Suppose upon the common experience of voting there may be some doubt; just ask these questions concerning the candidate and you will find it is a very easy matter to be on the right side. Does the candidate suggest reverence, honesty, purity, unselfishness, candor? If he is on the wrong side; it makes no difference what party badge he may wear. If you want to be right you will vote against him. The same rule will apply in all the concerns of life.—Ohio State Journal.

Missouri's Senator.

A move to force the resignations of Senators William J. Stone and James A. Reed, of Missouri, took definite form when Democratic officials here were notified that former State Senator Thomas R. Ely had issued a call for a mass convention of Democrats to be held to-day to ask them to resign.

Democratic politicians say that unless Reed and Stone are thrown over board no man can be elected to any office in Missouri who does not condemn the two Senators and upholders of President Wilson.
